November, 2015

Can you believe ...

that it is already November, and halfway through spring. Our beautiful village has been buzzing over the past month with music at the hall, the opening of the swimming pool season, tennis players testing out the new courts plus our delicious eateries where you can choose to takeaway or eat in and the diverse weekly markets. There are treasures to be found at the op-shop and the Kendall Craft Co-op that keeps our train station operational. If you are not familiar with the area or haven't been to Kendall for a while, consider a family day trip to check out all that is on offer. Perhaps a game of tennis (hire key from the Bottle-o), then cool off at the swimming pool...which has BBQ facilities for a spot of lunch. Once refreshed consider a look around the op shop...or maybe purchase a quirky craft item from the various artisan shops. The kids have a couple of playground options or maybe get the kayaks out on the river. Or if all this activity is too much then consider relaxing at Miss Nellie's café or enjoy the beautiful river view from the local club.

In this busy and ever-expanding world we live in, let's take a moment to stop and be grateful for the abundance of natural beauty, community connections and simple pleasures that Kendall has to offer.

A Successful Singalong

By Judy Wilson

What a great afternoon we had on Sunday 11th October in the Kendall Community Hall. The walls reverberated with many voices raised in song at the Kendall Singalong Show!

Local singers Rose Wilson and Terry Memory led the singalong and were ably accompanied by Adam Bishop on the grand piano, with occasional solo pieces much to the delight of the crowd. For those of us who can never remember the words they were displayed on a large screen so that everyone could join in.

The hall looked very festive with coloured lights along the walls and tables covered with cloths and vases of flowers. Many people brought snacks but there was also a feast of all types of cakes and other items available too. Some brought along a bottle of wine and I'm sure that the audience participation improved after a glass or two!

An enjoyable time was had by all and lots of laughs too especially when Rose was trying to teach us how to yodel in the Sound of Music favourite 'The Lonely Goatherd'!

Our very efficient MC was John Haldane and big thanks go to all those involved in the organising, planning, performing and producing such a fun afternoon.

I should also be mention that it was the first time the brand new sound and light system recently installed by Nigel Head of HeadAV, Port Macquarie and funded by a grant from Clubs NSW, was used in the hall and it enhanced the performance no end.

Trust News re: Community Centre

By Alvena Ferguson

You may have noticed that lots has been happening around the Community Centre. A grant from Clubs NSW (Laurieton United Services Club and Westport Club together) provided approximately $7000 to upgrade the sound and lighting equipment in the Kendall School of Arts Hall. Nigel Head of Head AV was commissioned to design, supply and install the new equipment. The September Kendall Music Exchange gave the first opportunity for it to be tried out, followed by Rose Wilson's Kendall Sing-a-Long Show and both events were reportedly overwhelmed with the ease of operation and the variety of shows the new equipment can enhance. Nigel, who worked on many of the Camden Haven Music Festival events over past years, had built in a user-friendly system that is at the same time very comprehensive and well-protected from misuse. The new sound equipment will serve us into the foreseeable future for all kinds of occasions. Two of the Centre Trustees as well as one or two technically minded locals have had thorough training in how to set up the gear, so anyone hiring the Hall has just to ask and we can provide a professional level of sound and lighting for your event.

Financial collaboration between the Meeting Place Café, the Garden Club and the Trust enabled a boardwalk to be built between the road and the paving outside the RTC building. This was a much needed safety project but it looks so beautiful we can't think why we hadn't done it long ago. Local business Mick Baker Landscaping provided the design and build and a wonderful job they have done too. The exposed roots of the huge camphor laurel tree are no longer a trip hazard, and wheelchairs and wheely walkers can negotiate the distance between the parking area and the path in safety. It just remains to finish off the ground cover at each end of the boardwalk, also to be undertaken by Mick Baker.

In May next year a Kendall Fall Festival is planned, to incorporate many of the existing Kendall events into one great big celebration. The Trust applied for funding to Port Macquarie Hastings Council Community Grants Program and was rewarded with over $3,000 towards the cost of a festival. This will roll together some of the smaller local events such as The Good Life in Kendall, Poets Breakfast, Photography Competition and others. There'll be market stalls, music, food and beverages, historical and craft exhibits and lots lots more.

It's been a busy year and there's still more to be done around the Centre. Don't forget to come by on a Thursday for a great coffee and some wonderful cakes at the Meeting Place Café. Just the place to catch up with the local goss and meet some old and new friends.

Milly Jones Latest Book Launch

Will be held at the Kendall Hall

MONDAY 9th NOVEMBER 10am-12noon

Who remembers Milly Jones' first book launch Footsteps, at the Kendall Hall and her second, Camden Haven Cameo at the Kew Information Centre? Well now her third is coming up – Yearning – a hop, skip and a slide through our seventies. Surely something not to be missed.

Peter Besseling will again be doing the honours and Karen Pini, Manager of Queens Lake Village, will be the MC. Everybody is invited to come and share the occasion over chat and morning tea. There will be plenty of food for thought as well since Milly's book covers much of life's happenings for those of us (and our children, family and friends) who are in that place – living through their seventies.

What's it all about? Milly grins "a little bit of nearly everything – tales and talk, laughs and lamentations, light hearted and heartfelt. Anecdotal stories that I hope will connect in some way with all who read it."

If you are unable to attend the launch and would like the book please ring Milly on 65594364.

Op Shop Report

By Judy

Summer is now in full swing and our clothing racks are full of bargains for everyone. Shorts, swimmers, T-shirts and sun hats for toddlers, children and adults. There is always a good supply of work clothing for men as well as business shirts and casual attire. The women's dress rack is overflowing and there are some lovely sarongs and summer blouses.

Take the time to browse through the display of crockery, cutlery, kitchen items, ornaments, and our great range of framed prints and paintings.

With the formal season approaching we can offer a selection of gowns and suits at a very reasonable price. Choose a necklace or earrings from the jewellery section to give your outfit that extra zing.

We have a selection of greeting cards for all occasions, standard cards are 20c and large cards 50c. The cards are found opposite the shoe display and next to the CD's and DVD's.

Don't leave the shop without checking out our book section – the best in the area – whether you read crime, romance, history, biography or fantasy, you will find something. For those too young to read we do have great picture books and stories that can be read to you.

Bargain bins can be found outside the shop as well as discount racks of clothing, you will always find something you can't do without.

The sale of rags is a source of income for the Op-Shop. The material used is pure cotton or a high mix of cotton, if you have sheets, pillow slips, towels that you feel have passed their use by date, consider donating them, the 'cut up' ladies would be appreciative.

Op-Shop volunteers organised a very successful Melbourne Cup Fashion Parade in conjunction with the Kendall Services and Citizens Club. Just a reminder that items worn by our volunteers are available at the shop.

We welcome new volunteers, Ngaire Parsons, Glenda Merlinz.

John welcomed everyone and thanked Doug Pope for hosting last month's meeting. On 9th November our member, Milly, will be launching her new book "Yearning" at 10am in the community hall. Next month's meeting will commence in the hall at 10am followed by moving to Addictive Landscapes and Nursery at Bonny Hills at about 10:40am.

Some administrative procedures were put to the meeting and it was moved that the signatories to the club's bank account should be updated to include Jim Lewin and Christine Cullen in addition to existing signatories John Carter and Sandra Le Feuvre, and remove Janice De Rose from the list. The member agreed unanimously to the proposal.

The December meeting is on the 21st and it was proposed that no gifts would be exchanged, but there would be some lucky door prizes.

Some discussion centred around when to hold Camden Haven Open Gardens some time in March or April. It was decided to discuss this further at the next meeting.

Show and tell included some softcane orchids and various cuttings as well as lemons to take. Hot compost will kill any weed seeds but must get to at least 60°C. Flea beetles on eggplants come from the mulch and are hard to eradicate. As mentioned in wikipedia: "Flea beetles execute their most severe attacks during dry weather and are most active on sunny days. The larvae are known to chew roots." It was suggested keeping the leaves wet to deter the beetles. Almanac.com recommends "Try this homemade spray to control flea beetles: 2 parts rubbing alcohol, 5 parts water, and 1 tablespoon liquid soap. Spray the mixture on the foliage of garden plants that are susceptible to these pests."

The speaker this month was Ron Chapman a noted judge and steward at various Ag Shows. Ron's main interest is cut flowers although he has also judged potted plants. He has been involved in this for 25 years.

The flowers are judged on the following points:

1. form;
2. freshness or brightness;
3. Size of bloom
4. Colour - no blemishes & uniform;
5. Stage - how it is presented;
6. Container - suited to displaying the flower.

Shouldn't use a valuable vase as the stands aren't always manned and someone could walk off with your vase. The foliage should be clean as well. E.g. rose leaves should not show any blackspot. The judge follows a schedule and uses the criteria in the horticultural rules book to evaluate the flower. Pot plants

iKew Report
By Annette Jepp

Overseas Visitor numbers calling into iKew Information Centre have slowed down in the last month. The Nomads caravanning North for the winter are returning to their home towns for Christmas celebrations travelling from as far as Western Australia, Tasmania and Victoria, and now we find locals from N.S.W. and Queensland taking advantage of the more quieter time calling to be told of the interests in the area, many have chosen Christmas gifts from the centre knowing the gifts are crafted locally and unique to the area. We are looking forward to displaying an exhibition of photography and artwork by senior students from Kendall Public School, the exhibition is planned to run during December/January in the Gallery at the iKew centre, some remarkable works will be on display and a credit to the students.

Our stock of dolls clothes have arrive with some beautiful little outfits, ideal gifts to give that special little girl for Christmas, also we have available some lovely hand made cards, they are so beautifully made it will give the receiver that WOW factor when they receive one of these cards.

When looking for a gift for that (got every thing) person why not make up a basket with the different food items from local producers, we have Riccardo's chutney, jams and sauces, Fudge and chocolates from the Fudge factory, Nuts from the Macadamia farm, and two selections of honey from our local bee keepers, there are lots more to choose from so get in early because Christmas is just around the corner.

The free local News papers are available for you to collect, why not have a cuppa while you are browsing or enjoy a quite time on our comfortable chairs with a cuppa, the Volunteers are always there to assist you.

Remember before going away on holidays call in and collect your free maps and make it a safe journey.

CWA Report - By Gael Mackenzie

The Kendall CWA October meeting and AGM had good crowds presenting for both meetings. Lovely to see our patron Gwen and Group Vice President Marcia and we welcomed new member Jean. The AGM is, of course a time to reflect on the past year and it's accomplishments. We remembered friends and loved ones who were no longer with us and reflected on what the branch had achieved in the past year. Italy was a very interesting country of study with so much culture and wonderful food. A very successful International day was held with great input from Kendall Public School with their enthusiastic entries into the book competition. Our guest speaker, wonderful artifacts and delicious food all proved a hit with the visiting branches. Beetroot, boronia and butterflies proved interesting subjects for study thank you Tin. Thank you to all members for helping with the Papua New Guinea mother and baby packs as well as your support with practical and pamper packs for the local womens' refuge. Some fascinating guest speakers throughout the year, thank you Nan for organising these. Thanks too, to all the other committee members - without your hard work and the day to day "housekeeping" tasks, the branch would not function! Only one change to committee positions, Barbara has taken on the Ag/Environment Officer position as well as a newly created position of Welfare/Entertainment Officer - a position tailor-made for her.

Our new country of study is Mongolia and as usual, our International Officer, Kath is right onto it! Our International Day is set for 5 April and the guest speaker is organised! What a fascinating country, can't wait to find out more about it! We look forward to learning more about our flora and fauna - this year Regent honeyeater and red cedar. Next meeting is 17 November, 10am. Please bring along some items for the womens' refuge pamper packs as we will be giving those in December. Check out our facebook page or contact Secretary Di 6556 9753.

Mens Shed News

Terry Duff

Your Kendall men's shed continues to serve and grow, some of our news is as follows

11th December Kendall Carol's, at the show ground, with an array of performances from locals. Santa has been booked, so bring a picnic and blanket and join in. The usual sausage sizzle will be available and snow cones. Entry is free and we will start around 6pm. All monies raised from sales and donations this year go to Kendall learn to Swim.

The ladies of the Kendall Memorial Garden, have asked for assistance in the beautifying of the park, in the form of perhaps a bag of fertiliser, some turf, topsoil, or a donation which can be deposited in their account at the Bendigo bank Kendall, or left at the office of the Community centre. Remember the ladies receive no support from any group in the maintenance of the park.

Hope to see you all at Carols
