LANDMARK DAY FOR KENDALL TENNIS CLUB

Wendy pictured with John Fitzpatrick

Hearty Congratulations go to Wendy Hudson and her dedicated team! The many helpers and supporters together with a very large number of locals and visitors came together on Saturday 22nd August for the opening of the great new courts for the Club. A fun day was had by all with many activities available for both adults and children to join in and displays of the next stage depicting the new clubhouse.. Of course, two of the most important visitors couldn't utter a word but were definitely the centre of attention for a great part of the day - the two magnificent silver AO trophies somehow managed to be part of most of the photos, even with the Lachlan Valley's grand old steam train that just 'happened' to be passing by!

Jonathan Mui
Wins Watermark
Composition
Prize

The Kendall National Violin Competition has announced the young violinist and composer Jonathan Mui as the recipient of the Competition's Watermark Composition Prize gifted to the competition by the Watermark Literary Society. The Prize of $ 2000 was contested by composers from around Australia who submitted a composition for either Violin Solo or Violin and Piano to be performed by all finalists of the Kendall National Violin Competition on September 12 in Kendall. Entries must have been specifically written for the competition and the compositions would not have been performed in public.

Following a process of blind review renowned Australian composers Paul Stanhope, Georges Lentz and violinist and contemporary music expert Ole Bohn reached an independent and unanimous decision to award the composition prize to Jonathan Mui. The judges praised Mui's winning entry for its idiomatic nature, its fine structure and stylistic creativity. Goetz Richter, Artistic Director of the Kendall National Violin Competition said: "We were thrilled that the judges' decision was so clear and convincing – Jonathan Mui's Watermark composition is a great artistic achievement and it emphasizes the competition's attention to Australian music and Australian composers. We have always insisted that young Australian performers must also play the new music of their country." Mui's Rhapsody No 2 will feature in the final round of this year's Kendall National Violin Competition. For Jonathan Mui this will be a return to Kendall after winning the Kendall National Violin Competition himself in 2007 as a violinist. Mui comments: "I still recall clearly my experience in the Kendall Violin Competition. It represented an important milestone in my development as a violinist. In particular, I remember vividly the series of recitals I presented as the KNVC winner- the opportunity to present myself as an artist, to share my music-making with the public. What a wonderful surprise it is then, for my composition to be selected as the winning entry for the KNVC's compulsory Australian piece this year. I am looking forward to hearing my piece performed by some of Australia's brightest young violinists."

The Watermark Composition Award was made possible through a generous donation from the Watermark Literary Society and honours the work of the founders of the Watermark Literary Muster Elaine van Kempen and the late Australian writer Eric Rolls. Jonathan Mui's Rhapsody No. 2 will be performed on September 12 by all four finalists of the Kendall National Violin Competition. Poem written for William Tyrrell

Don't think we've forgotten you William
For that fact is simply not true
Our lives may go on as usual
but often we're thinking of you
You may not have lived in our area,
But now you are known in these parts
Your name is forever soft spoken
And your image is deep in our hearts.

Kendall Music Exchange

By Alison

Who would have thought it could get even bigger and better? Well, Kendall Hall was full and we nearly ran out of chairs on Friday 7th August, when Elly Franchimont and her fabulous singing group 'Wednesday' performed.

The next Kendall Music Exchange will be on Friday 4th September.

We welcome KEVIN ATKINS as our main guest artist. Kevin plays the piano. He lives in Lake Cathie and regularly plays his beautiful piano music at the Glasshouse Lunch Time Concerts. Kevin has played the piano all his life and he is very much looking forward to playing for us at Kendall. 'I believe Kevin is working on a little surprise for us, too!' says Alison.

The following month, on Friday 2 October, we have the pleasure of a lovely Ukulele Group 'CHUMS' as main guest artists.

As always, you are very welcome to bring your instrument along and share a couple of songs or just come and listen to all the wonderful music.

Doors open at 6.30pm for a 7pm start. Entry is by donation. And - yes—the Kendall Community Hall will be fully airconditioned. For more information please contact Al-

The CHUMS Story

It was in July 2012 that a group of like-minded people, mostly unknown to each other, went to learn ukulele with Ken Yates at Camden Haven Adult Education. We loved playing so much and realised then if we didn't practice all we had learned would be forgotten! So, with encouragement from Ken, on 5th July 2012 CHUMS (Camden Haven Ukulele Musicians) was born. We continued to play at each other's house and finally, by word of mouth, our group began to grow.

Now CHUMS are at Laurieton United Services Club (LUSC)

each Friday at 10am and continues to grow with some 55 ukulele enthusiasts in our group. Others join the Group when they are on holidays and some even come by yacht(!) whilst on their travels. We were lucky to find our first group leader in Gwen Cause. The reigns have now passed to Khristina Joy who continues to inspire us to play and sing. CHUMS re friendly bunch and all are welcome. A big THANK YOU to Khristina Joy, who is going to coordinate and present this special concert. A big THANK YOU also to the wonderful audience-All YOU people who come along each month. The appreciation you show for each and every song means so much to the musicians.

Passing of the Guard at The Kew Corner Store

The Kew Corner Store has been a long standing icon of the area used by locals and travellers alike. Many people knew the previous owners Paul and Sue Macindoe well. It was therefore a sad occasion when Paul Macindoe passed away last month. There was a very large gathering of family and the wider community who came together to pay their respects and celebrate his life. We all send a heartfelt sympathy to Sue and the family at this time.

The new owners of the Kew Corner Store owners Staffan and Bronwyn have spent many tireless hours placing developing their vision of the future. Their ethos appears to be sourcing as much of their produce as locally as possible. Keeping it local, is important to ensure that we keep as much of our money in the community as we can. For example they stock some incredibly tasty hand smoked free-range bacon, ham and chorizos from Tanglewood farm in Comboyne. Cheese and Yoghurts from Comboyne. Rose's cakes from Lorne valley. Fruit and vegetables direct from Kenny Little who also aims to keep it local where possible. Recently the store stocked some Kendall Kiwi, fruit that was so sweet with almost a sherbert twist. The joy of the produce section is you never quite know what delights you might find.

Staffan and Bronwyn have great future plans for the store including extending out the back so that you can have your takeaway overlooking the beautiful golf course. They also plan to develop wheelchair and pram access by summer. In the meantime they have put considerable money back into the community by employing over 12 people.

If you haven't been in the store yet go check it out. It certainly has something for everyone with cosy seating and even a giftware section for those last minute gifts. They are up early feeding hearty breakfast takeaways for the early workers with some solid hot food.

The most enjoyable thing about stepping into the Kew store is the vibe. Staffan, Bronwyn and the crew all seem to be quick with a smile and eager to meet your needs. We wish them well on them well on the start of their venture.

Bob (Aka the Kendall Casanova) would like to submit the following rebuttal from the article Doggie Escapades, Friday 1st May, volume 12 issue 5.

Hi my name is Bob.

I'm one hell of a dog.

Apologies for any distress I've caused.

You see I'm a travelling hound,

Got my nose to the ground

I don't mean to break no laws

I sing the blues
while doing twos
on your neighbour's front lawn.

It's been 15 long years now

It's a thing I can't shake

like R.E.O Speed Wagon once said

"it's a hard habit to break."

Now my past has caught up with me.

As my owners gavel fell,

their jury found me guilty

gave me sixteen years in hell.

But I'm gunna make a kennel break,
and I'm looking toward your lawn.

I'm gunna make a kennel brake
there's nothing like a dog scorned.

And thanks to the good folk of Kendall
Those who kept me safe from harm.

But no thanks to you pen man

Sixteen years I got man

locked up on my farm.

Says Bob.

Kendall Op Shop Report From Judy

The half price sale that ran for the last two weeks of August was a huge success. Now we have the room to fill the shop again with new stock. There is a variety of men's suits for all sizes and occasions. As always the children's clothing and ladies wear racks have a great variety to choose from. Books, toys, games, DVD's and CD's have all been restocked. Shoes, handbags and carry bags shelves are topped up. So now is a really good time to come to the shop.

The Kendall Op-Shop was honoured to host the annual Women in Service luncheon at the Kendall Services and Citizens Club on Wednesday 12th August. Eighty ladies from 17 Services Clubs in the Port Macquarie and Camden Haven region attended. A spokesperson from each club presented a two minute talk about their organisation. One outstanding theme that came from every group was the satisfaction that the ladies gained through their volunteer work and the friendships that flourished in their organisation.

The Bells of Haven provided entertainment while the ladies were being seated and Adam played background music as the luncheon was served. The food was excellent and the view just perfect, as always.

June Le Pla OAM our guest speaker, spoke of the service provided by Fawna – For Australian Wildlife Needing Aid. That includes the rescue, rehabilitation and release of birdlife and wildlife in our area.

Thank you all for your donations, the Op-Shop could not operate without community support.

Happy Fathers Day Dads. Remember if you have run out of time for that gift for Dad there are hand knitted Beanies in footy colours, books, clocks with roman numerals, pens and coffee tables made by “The men’s shed” Paintings and, if Dad has a sweet tooth, Honey, Nuts and those famous Riccardo’s Pickles, we also have hand-made gift cards.

Volunteers with the “Driver Reviver” will be swinging into action with School Holidays soon approaching in September. With the warmer weather coming, the Volunteers are expecting a large amount of travellers to call for a rest and refreshments, the amount of people calling each holiday time is growing.

This month at the Information Centre we have had people call in from all over the world including a large amount of Irish, German and Japanese travellers have called in. The regular nomad pilgrimage from the south heading to the warmer climate of the North has grown, seeing many vans taking advantage of the installation of the Toilet Dump site for vans and calling into the Information Centre to collect that map or two.

A meeting was held in August with the Volunteers voicing their opinion on the Colour and design of the T-shirts about to be purchased for them displaying our logo “The Big Axe”, a committee is about to be formed for plans to take place for the layout of gardens at the Centre, we hope to make travellers stay as eye catching as possible.

The gallery still has on display and for purchase many beautiful quilts, the travellers are delighted with the display and many quilts have been purchased. Many wonderful paintings by local artists adorn the walls and would be a talking point to any home when purchased.

Our newest addition to our local range is the wooden pot stands made so decorative and so sturdy, we have tea cosy’s to go with the stands in all pretty colours. We will be receiving in the near future lovely fridge magnets with our icon “The Big Axe” on and selling at a very cheap rate.

A large range of free local papers and magazines are available, just call in and pick one up.

LOCAL RESIDENT STRIKES IT LUCKY!

Well known local boy, Michael Keyzer, became the recipient of a substantial Jackpot payout at the Kendall Services & Citizens Club recently and is highly delighted that he chose to be in the club on that lucky night!

The combined jackpot has ten clubs participating and a member must be present in his club to be eligible to claim the prize. So, after having to go round all the clubs, Kendall Club was number 6 on the list and Michael was the very lucky member.

Congratulations Michael!

CWA Kendall August Meeting By Gael Mackenzie

Guest speaker for our August meeting was Ian Wall, hearing support teacher with the Dept of Education. We were astounded to hear that a barrage of tests done on babies at 6 weeks of age can diagnose hearing impairment, including to what degree that impairment may be! No longer do children go the first 5 or so years of life hearing impaired before being tested when they enter school. So many years to develop strategies for development, have hearing aids or cochlear implants and learn to speak and/or sign. The support teachers work with the parents and children right from this young age through their whole education. A wonderful initiative! As part of this a deaf kids camp is held annually. This gives the kids a fantastic opportunity to network socially in an atmosphere where all the children have a hearing impairment and are therefore on a level social playing field. Ian reports that at these camps many lifelong friendships are formed and the children regularly network using email and texting. Kendall CWA is proud to support the annual camp.

DATES FOR YOUR DIARY:

September 10 - CWA Awareness Week, Kendall will hold an open day from 9am at their rooms next door to the club. Come along and have a cuppa and chat. CWA NSW focus this awareness week is domestic violence. To bring attention to this Kendall CWA has asked Port Macquarie Hastings domestic and family violence specialist service to joining us for the morning. They will be available from 10-12 to answer any questions. We will also be promoting organ donation and asking that you "have that talk" with your family.

September 15 - Birthday picnic at Cowarra dam. Instead of a meeting we are celebrating with a picnic. Meeting at the dam at 10am, bringing a plate. Visitors, husbands, significant others all welcome! In case of rain we will meet at our rooms. If anyone needs a lift or more information please contact Secretary Di on 6556 9753.

Spring Fashion Parade Coming to Kendall

Quota International of Camden Haven is having its annual Fashion show on Saturday the 19th of September at 2 pm at the Kendall Services and Citizens Club. The Fashion Show is a major fundraiser for the club. Quota International is a non-profit organisation empowering women, children, the deaf, hard of hearing and speech impaired in local communities and around the world. Quota provides assistance directly to those in need.

All are invited to come along to enjoy our Fashion Show fundraiser to view the new spring fashions from J & A Fashions which will be modelled by 'real women', with the program hosted by Karen Pini. Afternoon tea comprising hot foods, sandwiches and cakes will be catered for by Club Chef Craig and the very talented "Blokes Notes" will round out the entertainment! Tickets for this afternoon of entertainment, supporting a very worthwhile cause, will cost $20.00 and may be booked by phoning Cheryl on 65594421 or Pauline on 65595669 by Wednesday the 16th of September to confirm catering needs.

The July meeting commenced with a moments silence to commemorate the loss of two of our members - Pru Stitt and Cassie Bannerman.

This meeting also marked the 11th anniversary of the club. Doug presented an interesting slideshow of various places he and Di have canoed. Highlighting just how wonderful the Camden Haven River is for paddling and the Kendall Community Boatshed welcomes any new paddlers. Phone Diann 6559 6740 for more details about the Boatshed.

The August meeting was held on 17th August where John welcomed everyone and thanked Richard and Christine for organising the horticultural speakers day along with all the helpers. A profit was made for the club which helps expenses.

The boardwalk over the camphor laurel roots has commenced and the club has agreed to contribute $1,000 towards the cost. A cheque will be presented to the Hall Committee at our Christmas Party. September's speaker will be on soil science and October will cover how plants are judged at horticultural shows. November may be an excursion to the Addictive Landscape Nursery and we have been invited to the Gardens of Australia trip to Kariong on 26/9/15 cost: $60pp.

The speaker for this month was none other than John Carter on Minerals and Fertilizers. He pointed out that gypsum (available from the club) was good at breaking down the clay soil, ground limestone reduced soil acidity; slaked lime (calcium hydroxide) was quicker acting but not controllable. Microfine lime stays in suspension when added to water and can be applied by watering can. Dolomite and magnesium sulphate is generally not recommended for this area as there is sufficient magnesium in our soils and too much can cause issues. Dinoferret is composted bird poo. A similar product is Super Katek available from the club contains trace elements. Multigrow pellets are good for spinach and beans. Blood & Bone is a good natural fertilizer & potassium sulphate can be added with it. Water in around the drip line. Aquasol & Seasol improve the soil. Check ingredients in Fertilizers: Nitrogen (N) promoted leaf growth, Potassium (K) promotes flowering and Phosphorus (P) kills most native plants. You can use cow, horse, sheep, poultry manure plus garden compost.

Next meeting will be held on 21 September, 2015.

Report on Horticultural Speakers Day

By Jim Lewin

What a fantastic day this was with four eloquent speakers covering a range of topics and hosted by John Carter the president of the Kendall District Gardener's Club.

Up first was Kath Gadd who is a horticulturalist specialising in native garden design. She spoke about the various garden styles and pointed out that a garden is a process and not a product. The plant format and texture takes priority over colour. To determine what plants to use observe plants in their natural habitat and what grows in the area. The styles cover small, natural, formal, and wildlife. Small gardens can use dwarf species and groundcover natives incorporating one or two tall elements. Naturalistic or bush gardens tend to use local indigenous plants. Formal gardens may have clipped shrubs. Wildlife gardens may have a dense understory with leaf litter, or may be heath land, open grassy woodland. Nesting sites and access to water is provided. Trees with hollows and connecting canopies help wildlife. When planning a garden develop a wish list and obtain pictures of plants you like. Structure is important, providing focal points, scale, symmetry/asymmetry, masses/voids and repetition are tools used to enhance gardens. Art and sculpture personalise a garden. For more on garden design see malleedesign.com.au

John Carter with Kath Gadd

After a generous morning tea the next presenter was Kim Gollan from Dingo Creek Rainforest Nursery. Kim initially started to grow rainforest plants to reafforest her own property and developed a nursery. Mid north coast was originally a flood plain rainforest. Once the timber went and in came the dairy farmers there was no thought to plant conservation. Fortunately, some plant seeds were collected and are now going in Melbourne's Botanical Garden's magnificent arboretum. There are three pockets of floodplain rainforest left in this area – Wingham Brush, Coocumbac Island Nature Reserve in the Manning River, and the Landsdowne Reserve. There are different species in all three as well as some common ones. Some examples of floodplain rain forest plants include the plum pine which is a native conifer with edible fruit, Pepperbush and Bolwarra. Environmental weeds particularly vines are detrimental to our rainforests. Floodplain plants can be grown anywhere.

After lunch Angela Millet talked about fungi. Angela developed her interest in fungi and photographing fungi through Landcare. The fungi kingdom has DNA more closely related to animals. It has no leaves roots or chlorophyll. What we see above the ground is the fruit of the fungi. It breaks down organic matter and can have parasitic or symbiotic relationships. It needs a critical mass of nutrients, moisture and oxygen which is absorbed through the mycelium. There is a large variety of fungi and stages of the same fungi can look quite different. It is important to see the lifecycle of fungi to help classify them. The largest living organism on earth is said to be a fungus covering 2500 acres.

The final speaker was Frith Peters who was ABC gardener of the year in 2010. Frith showed us slides of the development of her garden during an extended drought period and through sandstorms and grasshopper plagues. Frith's story is well documented on the ABC website. She is now developing new garden at Comboyne. It will be quite a different story with different sorts of challenges.

Frith with her golden spade being introduced by John Carter

Thanks to all presenters, helpers and attendees. We now look forward to the fourth speaker's day.
